

Module Details
Module Title	Business Human Rights and Environment (Distance Learning)
Module Code	LAW7064-B
Academic Year	2023/4
Credits	20
School	School of Law
FHEQ Level	FHEQ Level 7

Contact Hours
Type	Hours
Directed Study	176
Online Lecture (Asynchronous)	12
Online Seminar (Synchronous)	12

Availability
Occurrence	Location / Period
DLA	University of Bradford / Semester 2

Module Aims
This module is aimed and providing students with a critical understanding of the interrelationship between global business activities and the impacts of environment and human rights. Students will be exposed to the case studies in both developed and developing contexts, and the efficacy or otherwise of the accountability frameworks that currently exist at international, regional, transnational and national frameworks.

Outline Syllabus
Overview of the environment, human rights and global business nexus Issues, debates and developments in human rights, environment and international businesses Theoretical discourses- emerging rights International, regional and transnational accountability frameworks. Case studies.

Learning Outcomes
Outcome Number	Description
01	Critically evaluate the background and wider contexts, including the broader dimensions of governance and regulation of this area.
02	Evidence an in-depth knowledge of the key concepts, principles and law regulating climate change.
03	Critically apply the principles and law in this field to new cases and situations.
04	Evidence independent research skills in primary and secondary sources

Learning, Teaching and Assessment Strategy
All sessions are delivered online using digital legal resources and appropriate learning technologies. The Virtual Learning Environment (VLE) for each module is the hub of knowledge through which all module materials are accessed and where a big part of student work takes place. The module will be delivered over 12 weeks 5 of which will include synchronous learning and 7 asynchronous. Synchronous learning, which involves student interaction with module lecturers and tutors, includes four 2-hour live seminars focusing on delivering content, clarifying issues on the law topics, and discussing answers to student tasks. One additional 2-hour synchronous seminar will focus on the design of and preparation for the summative assessment, module revision, and the collection and review of student feedback which will be used to improve module delivery. The seven weeks of asynchronous learning include a mix of learning activities such as pre-recorded online presentations or talks on a particular topic, links to relevant videos and online resources and lists of questions and tasks for self-study. You can watch the presentations, videos and work on the answers and tasks at your own time. The learning materials and activities (synchronous and asynchronous) cover the underlying theory and consider issues of critical evaluation of the law through a combination practical questions and case studies. Successfully completing tasks set requires independent legal research drawing on variety of both primary and secondary materials and written and oral presentations by you. Oral feedback is given in the class during the live sessions and opportunities for written feedback are provided. A formative assessment will be made available to help you better prepare for the summative assessment. An online module manual provides an outline of the module structure, content, learning and teaching strategy and assessment format. The manual is complemented by more detailed study guides which provide guidance on the topic of the weekly study and contain the learning materials (pre-recorded lectures, slides, tutorial tasks, self-study tasks) the reading lists, and other useful information for each week. Assessment will be by essay-based coursework only. This will comprise a presentation based on a case study and a written coursework of 2500 words or equivalent. You will be required to undertake a critical analysis of a complex issues in this field applying the theories, principles and law studied in the module. The coursework will require the use of independent research, critical and analytical skills. You will also be expected to use appropriate legal terminology and written communication. The summative assessment is aimed at testing your ability to meet the learning outcomes of the module

Mode of Assessment
Type	Method	Description	Weighting
Summative	Coursework	Presentation (10 Mins)	30%
Summative	Coursework	A critical application of theories principles and law (2500 words)	70%
Formative	Coursework	Review of planning in regards to coursework submission	N/A

Reading List
To access the reading list for this module, please visit https://bradford.rl.talis.com/index.html

Please note:

This module descriptor has been published in advance of the academic year to which it applies. Every effort has been made to ensure that the information is accurate at the time of publication, but minor changes may occur given the interval between publishing and commencement of teaching. Upon commencement of the module, students will receive a handbook with further detail about the module and any changes will be discussed and/or communicated at this point.

© University of Bradford 2023

<https://bradford.ac.uk>