

Tomorrow's Sustainable Universities Conference

15 – 16 July 2010

Workshop 1: Students and the Sustainability Journey: Shaping the Route or Just Along for the Ride?

Facilitator:

Sheri-Leigh Miles (StuDent Engagement Coordinator, Ecovercity)

This workshop will share the adventures of the Ecovercity Student Engagement strand and facilitate discussion around the following questions:

- What does meaningful engagement look like?
- How can students be empowered to become Change Agents?
- Where are student voices heard?

Whether students are agitators or collaborators they have a vital role to play in University communities and if sustainability is to be achieved their involvement is crucial.

Ecovercity has an abundance of experience around student engagement and this workshop will offer a space to share tools, tales and techniques to inspire and inform your own practice.
